The Sidewalk:
To Diane Kean

By Joe Swonk

June has hastened by
and now begins
the summer heat of July.

She walked each day
on a street called Water Lane
to keep old age and illness away.

The sidewalk there was even and wide,
safe as one could find;
"Better to walk, than to ride."

Then a car came racing from the street
and up the sidewalk,
the walker there to meet.

All was ruined, all was lost;
her life was taken
at a terrible cost.

Now the bells ring out mid morn;
soon the church will be filled
with those who mourn.

Those who gather there will say,
"How could there be such a terrible day?"

We will all wonder and sigh
and some of us, of course,
will cry.

It wasn't on the street
but the safety of the walk
that Death came --- you to greet.

So now we pause in this one place
and pray you forward on the Sidewalk
of Divine Grace.

This is the Sidewalk that disappears into the sky
which all of us must tread,
but you, Dear Friend, are such a loss, we question why.

DEL PASTOR

The Sidewalk:
To Diane Kean

By Joe Swonk

Junio se ha apresurado
y ahora comienza
el calor del verano de julio.

Ella caminó todos los días
en una calle llamada Water Lane
para alejar la vejez y la enfermedad.

Allí la acera era plana y ancha,
tan seguro como se pueda encontrar;
"Es mejor caminar que montar".

Entonces vino un auto corriendo desde la calle,
y por la acera,
el caminante allí para encontrarse.

Todo quedó arruinado, todo se perdió;
le quitaron la vida
a un costo terrible.

Ahora suenan las campanas a media mañana;
pronto la iglesia se llenará
con los que lloran.

Los que allí se reúnan dirán,
"¿Cómo podría haber tal
¿Un día terrible?"

Todos nos preguntaremos y suspiraremos
y algunos de nosotros, por supuesto,
llorará.

No estaba en la calle
pero la seguridad del paseo
que la Muerte vino --- a saludarte.

Así que ahora hacemos una pausa en este único lugar.
y te rezo hacia adelante en la acera
de la Divina Gracia.

Esta es la acera que desaparece en el cielo
que todos debemos pisar,
pero usted, querido amigo, es una pérdida tan grande que nos preguntamos por qué.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

If Jesus Were From Alabama

A little Baptist girl from Alabama went to church for the first time ever, when she was visiting her grandparents in Michigan. When the pastor announced it was time for the Lord's Supper, she was excited -- and hungry. The congregation filed up to the altar rail, and the child watched in confusion as her grandparents received a wafer and small plastic cup of wine. She could hardly wait to get back to the pew to tell her grandma that Jesus wasn't from Alabama. "How do you know that, dear?" asked her grandma. "Because that was the poorest meal I've ever seen," she said. "Mama would've at least given everybody some corn bread and sweet tea."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Knights of Columbus and the National Eucharistic Revival

Jesus invites us to encounter Him and to be transformed through prayer and the sacraments, especially the Eucharist. The way we come to know Jesus Christ, truly present in the Eucharist, is the same way we come to know any other person — learning about him, listening to him, and spending time with him.

The challenge for us as Catholics and as Knights is to make the profound truth of Jesus' presence a profound reality in our lives. Christ himself helps us do this, for the Eucharist is not a something, but a someone, who is living and active in our world and who desires a relationship with us.

May Jesus, who seeks to transform us in the sacrament of the Eucharist, help us to surrender our entire will to Him.

Mental Well-Being Ministry
Monthly Prayer for Mental Health

This month, the Pope's prayer is for the pastoral care of the sick, and he asks us to pray that the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick grants the Lord's strength to those who receive it so that it may become an ever more visible sign of compassion and hope. May parish communities always welcome people living with a mental illness and encourage them to receive the Sacrament and participate in the Mass.

The parish Mental Well-Being Ministry meets weekly following the Sunday 9:30 Mass. For additional information, contact Arn Manella at 804-499-5854.
